

Run 2196, Monday 27th July, 2009

Location: Holterman Street, Crows Nest

Hares: Fox Face & Irish Connection

“Well, I’ll be poppa-damned...”

As Little Johnnie Howard attended the run, we thought we should listen to his great words of wisdom about the Hash.

TM: Overall, did the run meet your expectations?

JHs: Whilst the run may or may not have lived up to my expectations is still a matter that I would rather leave to others, but let me just say that, on balance and taking all things into consideration, a run did take place on Monday night in the general vicinity as advertised and that a number of persons holding themselves out to be Hashmen with names such as Lost Patrol, Druid, Robbo & Captain Bligh did follow a trail set in the region.

TM: What did you think about the Presidents vitriolic attack on King Arthur & Swampy by labelling them as ‘cheats’ for being first at the first check?

JH: Err...well...see, I think that was an un-called for attack on two fine Hashmen who have served well over many years and it has been widely reported that Scud is fiercely jealous of King Arthur. Scud will never get over the fact that he is only a President and was not fortunate enough to be borne to royalty, as of course, the magnificent King Arthur is.

TM: Whilst the runners trail was long and hard, how would you rate the chances of the Hares receiving a major award for their efforts?

JH: I believe that any adverse comments made about the lack of arrows came from a small disruptive element of ratbags, Polish, Cinderella & Menstrual Man and to make such comments is completely un-Australian. The Hares created a very intelligent run that took in some great harbour views & coastal tracks available right here, in my own back-yard.

TM: Back markers such as Wanker, Copra, Payling & Pee Dub showed great courage in completing the runners trail.

JH: I think that they show the true Aussie spirit which is exemplified by your mighty organisation. Malcolm Turnbull...err...you do know who Malcolm Turnbull is don’t you? Well, I am sure that Malcolm could learn a lot about spirit from you chaps.

TM: Do you think that Peter Costello might consider challenging for the Hash leadership?

JH: Look ...er...you people keep on asking me about Peter Costello. Must I repeat time and time again that I did not ever, under any circumstances or at any place or any time in the past or in the future, promise Peter the top job. Peter couldn’t even make it as treasurer of the Hash. You already have a first class man in the job, who unfortunately seems to be over-using his political travel allowance somewhat.

TM: As a retired leader, do you have any advice for our own President?

JH: Well, Scud seems like a nice person but it’s time that he stood down...he and his cabinet must face the Music. They will be lucky to get even one vote at the forthcoming September election and I can’t believe that the opinion polls continue to show them as the most popular committee ever. But it’s time - surely they can hear the clock going Tic Toc!

TM: ...and finally, what did you make of the party room meeting after the run?

JH: ...err...well, it is clear that such a successful event, could not have been attempted without considerable government funding. Let me just say, that without the far reaching financial reforms that my government put in place some time ago, the present committee could not have achieved anything like their current level of economic success.

Footnote:

A lack of arrows in a few places had the Hounds hunting but the trails designed to offer great views across the harbour on a perfect Hash night earned lots of praise for Fox Face & Irish.

The restaurant was the only 'virgin territory' of the night and if nothing else, was a triumph of quantity, if not quality, all delivered to the Hungry Hounds in record time.

Re: Mekong Indochina Hash event hosted by Yangon in October.

Hand Job from North Shore Wanderers <brochester_01@hotmail.com> advises that “ prior to travelling into Myanmar I will be in Cambodia for 3 weeks. I have been travelling to Cambodia since 1998 - this will be my 7th trip - I admire the spirit of the Cambodians. I do some volunteer work in the north eastern province of Stung Treng - borders with Laos and Vietnam - (my own project - I like to know exactly where it is my money - plus that of people who are kind enough to assist me with my projects - goes!).

If any of the Posh Hashers who are going to Myanmar are considering visiting Cambodia I would love to meet up with them and show them something of Cambodia that they may not see as a 'tourist'.

I will be in Cambodia from Friday 25 September departing for Yangon on Monday 19 October.

I am planning on doing a couple of hash runs with Phnom Penh hash - first run for me being Sunday 27 September.
