

Run 2198, Monday 10th August, 2009

Location: Car Park, Woodford Lane, Lindfield

Hares: Box Kite & Yakity Yak

“Pink is the new black tie...”

Witches Tit got off on the wrong foot after a ‘disputation’ with President Scud over the exact time. Obviously Witches Tit’s watch was running fast (have you ever heard of a President being wrong?) and accordingly he - Witches Tit, not the President – was way ahead of the pack at the first falsie off Highfield Lane.

A bunch of bobbing torch lights coming down the lane, signalled the arrival of the Hounds who were running to ‘Eastern Presidential Time’. Spud, Lightning, Salt Peter, Jungle Jim and E-shit, took advantage of the falsie & re-grouped with Witches Tit, only to be caught brilliantly at the bottom of the lane, where the road gave way to bush. The large pack of runners were all sucked-in by the long check-back down the bush track to the left.

Hounds, Pheasant Plucker, Swampy and Smiley led the way up the stairs, while the lead runners struggled to recover their composure. The Walkers were spared the long loop around the Killara golf course while, again, the lead runners were drawn into a clever loop through the park surrounded by Coronga Crescent. Even back-markers Son of a Gun & Pee Dub were caught – despite the TM having already marked-out the trail to save them from the extra length (trust Pee Dub to be looking for some extra length).

The trail weaved cleverly around the dimly lit streets of suburban Lindfield but Copra, Captain Bligh and Lost Patrol were silly enough to follow Jock The Sock down a well shiggi-fied trail that ended in a huge check-back. A disbelieving Captain Bligh, just kept going, plunging into the gloomy bush, seemingly lost & gone forever.

At Primula Oval, the Hares had laid two checks just to confuse Le Merde Petit, who, horrified by this Hash transgression, headed straight back to the bucket to complain to the Hares. As you would imagine, LS handled this in his usual caring & compassionate style.

Walker/runners, Virginus Illigitimus, Moishe, Maximus Minimus & Flying Virgin tackled the big hill up Cocupara Ave with aplomb while back at the Bucket, Music Man complained about how tough it had been.

A coterie of Hash gentry including Centrepoin, Grape, Captain Bligh, Khyber, Le Merde Blanc and Tic Toc ambled in just as the bucket was ‘running on reserve’. What is it about Tic Toc that he is always late for the start and is nearly always among the last home? Maybe his little Toc Toc needs a re-charge! But at least he insists on always completing the full trail.

Footnote:

Again, a winter run with plenty of ‘bush’. Box Kite & Yaka-titty put a lot of work into creating a trail by clever use of the parks & bush trails to link the whole run together. The early checks worked perfectly, turning the pack inside-out in fine style. With some rather long check backs and bleedin’ hard hills, Box Kite lived up to his mantra that “setting a run is ‘payback’ time for all the injustices that previous Hares have meted out on him”.

Another fine run in well known but little used territory and of course, copious cold bucket.

TM’s Tips:

If you ain’t got it by now, it’s too late!
