Xmas at the Goanna's

The Run

On a beautiful balmy Christmas night sixty five Posh and a scattering of Harriettes led by KULTURE (as in yoghurt) - are they actually coming or not, and yes we were all very glad they did attend - enjoyed the lush pastures and fire trails of Gordon. The pack, with CAPTAIN KNOCKERS, a new gym junky, up front, took off along the north shore streets. Not long after PLUNGER, KITTY LITTER and WITCH'S TIT found the fire trail entrance. FARMER JONES, WANKER and COPRA solved the world financial crisis as they took off on the walkers trail led by FRENCHIE, while PAY-LING compared the steep runners ascent to the Kakoda Trail without the backpacks and creeks. Drought and Khyber contemplated the climb and took on the challenge, not whimps those two.

Finding the path through the ovals was a challenge, but not for local identity CINDERELLA and LAST CARD who debated whether to stop for a swim in the pool or follow the female talent to the five star Goanna Resort. The meandering track along the creek was quite spectacular but the rugged trail didn't stop MAXIMUS MINIMUS and YAKKITY setting a blinding pace. Passing under the bridge we followed the pipeline until we reached Lady Game Drive and here certain hashmen (whose names can't be repeated but did resemble PEE DUB and KHYBER) climbed over the road as the tunnel was just too difficult for these experienced adventurers. On home through the golf course we passed the first and second holes, (floppy from Oxfrd saying he had played both) something Tiger would not have done and then on to the GOANNA resort.

Here the festivities began, a lavish Christmas dinner of superb ham and turkey, served up by WHITE SHIT and the caring professional committee supervised by Bunny who just happened to be first in the queue to give his money to WAYNE SUPERGLUE SWAN. FUSSY NOT DESPERATE was a great help in clearing up and has been offered this weekly position. GOD KNOWS, PHEASANT PLUCKER, GEO and the SCUDS all sat in the the Dress Circle table to witness the exotic entertainment. MOISHE guided by our brightly dressed President CALICI gave us a lesson on how to ride a bike successfully and FLYING SCOTSMAN just found the evening too hot and decided to take a swim.

PAUL SIMON TOC and MUSIC GARFUNKLE having fixed the microphone volume, played a new unfinished song, helped by the ecstatic audience response and SIMMO was heard to say he had never had a better meal or night anywhere near the water. While GRAPE and LAST CARD discussed new wine menus PILKO and CHANGI were planning their next mountain run assault. So a great Christmas evening by the committee and thank you to Gaye and GOANNA and we hope Santa fulfils all your wishes or at least some of them HAPPY CHRISTMAS.

Santa Claus was going to town...
