The Run

On a balmy January evening the usual suspects led by Darwin Don and Illucifer, still suffering from withdrawal symptoms having been such an excellent trail master last year, turned up early at the Uni Oval. Then more suspects like the Flying Virgin, Simmo, Jungle and Yakkity arrived and someone suggested we had been here recently, but this was untrue as this virgin trail had never been run before (as is the case with virgins).

Finally the pack took off across the lush green oval and led by XXXX, and Hanoi Bill, finally found the gate (with the trail master screaming "No it's the other way") to the bush. This was tricky as we had never been through that gate before and it appeared locked, only the Trail Master new they key was the hole in the fence (as opposed to the hole in Last Card's shorts and family jewels made by the fence).

Many rumours were confirmed on the night, especially when Cinderella succeeded in flying over the fence (Bibbidi Bobbidi Boo), but not Scud or Sheep Dip who decided not to take that leap. Down to the scenic river we went with Spud, who has been on a sabbatical down the south coast commented on how the air was much cleaner around the Sydney main sewer, and Lost Patrol, hoping for a group of Girl Guides to pass decided to remove his shirt but not even the lizards were impressed.

Goonshow became the first hashman to complain that the On Backs were not long enough he obviously didn't receive any free Festival Tickets this year. Tooth Fairy (having finished his movie premiere red carpet tour) and Lurch found every false trail, while Pay_Ling slipped and injured himself while crossing the tumultuous wild river, but being a hashman not seriously (he fell on his head). In a brave move Last Card Loius even managed the river crossing without removing his running shoes.

Climbing up the convict built steps, with the Druid suggesting a prosthetic from Woodcock and co as Camilla wheezed his way up, we arrived back at the bucket.

Once again a superb dinner catered by the committee and the clever hares Khyber and Menstrual Man. Everyone was very happy to have a visit by Croesus In Jeans and after much interrogation it was discovered he was really in town to see his family not just his mates. After a rumoured sighting of ELVIS on his 75th birthday in Parkes, he joined us for a sing along. Just before the Police, State Emergency Services and WILSON TUCKEY were called a shadow of the world famous prolific adventurer and explorer General (fossett) Disaster appeared having spent five hours planning his next run in Turrumurra and Larry Adler didn't even make a phone call. The Annual World Scuffle Fight between Sonny Boy Grape and Anthony E Shit Mundine added some entertainment to another wonderful night under the clear Southern Cross sky. ON ON
